

BROKERS WEEKLY

Wednesday, June 17, 2009

THE RESIDENTIAL MARKET

Vol. 2, No. 12

THIS WEEK

Down house
$35M town house is sold for 18M.
Page 4

Safety first
Police Commissioner Ray Kelly says city's never been safer.
Page 6

The Connector

Why Ross Ellis was born to bring people together for the greater good.
Page 8

League of its own
The Visionaire achieves the highest level of green design.
Page 19

New top dog

Brooklyn's newest tallest tower tops out as The Brooklynier.
Page 21

Columbus day
Moving men arrive at the new Columbus Square mega-development.
Page 10

Done Deals.....Page 22
The Calendar.....Page 22

SHARE OPTIONS

City brokers give $10M slice of their commission to charity
... Page 17

WE WANT MORE
Halstead adds 200 more brokers
... Page 6

Sitting pretty

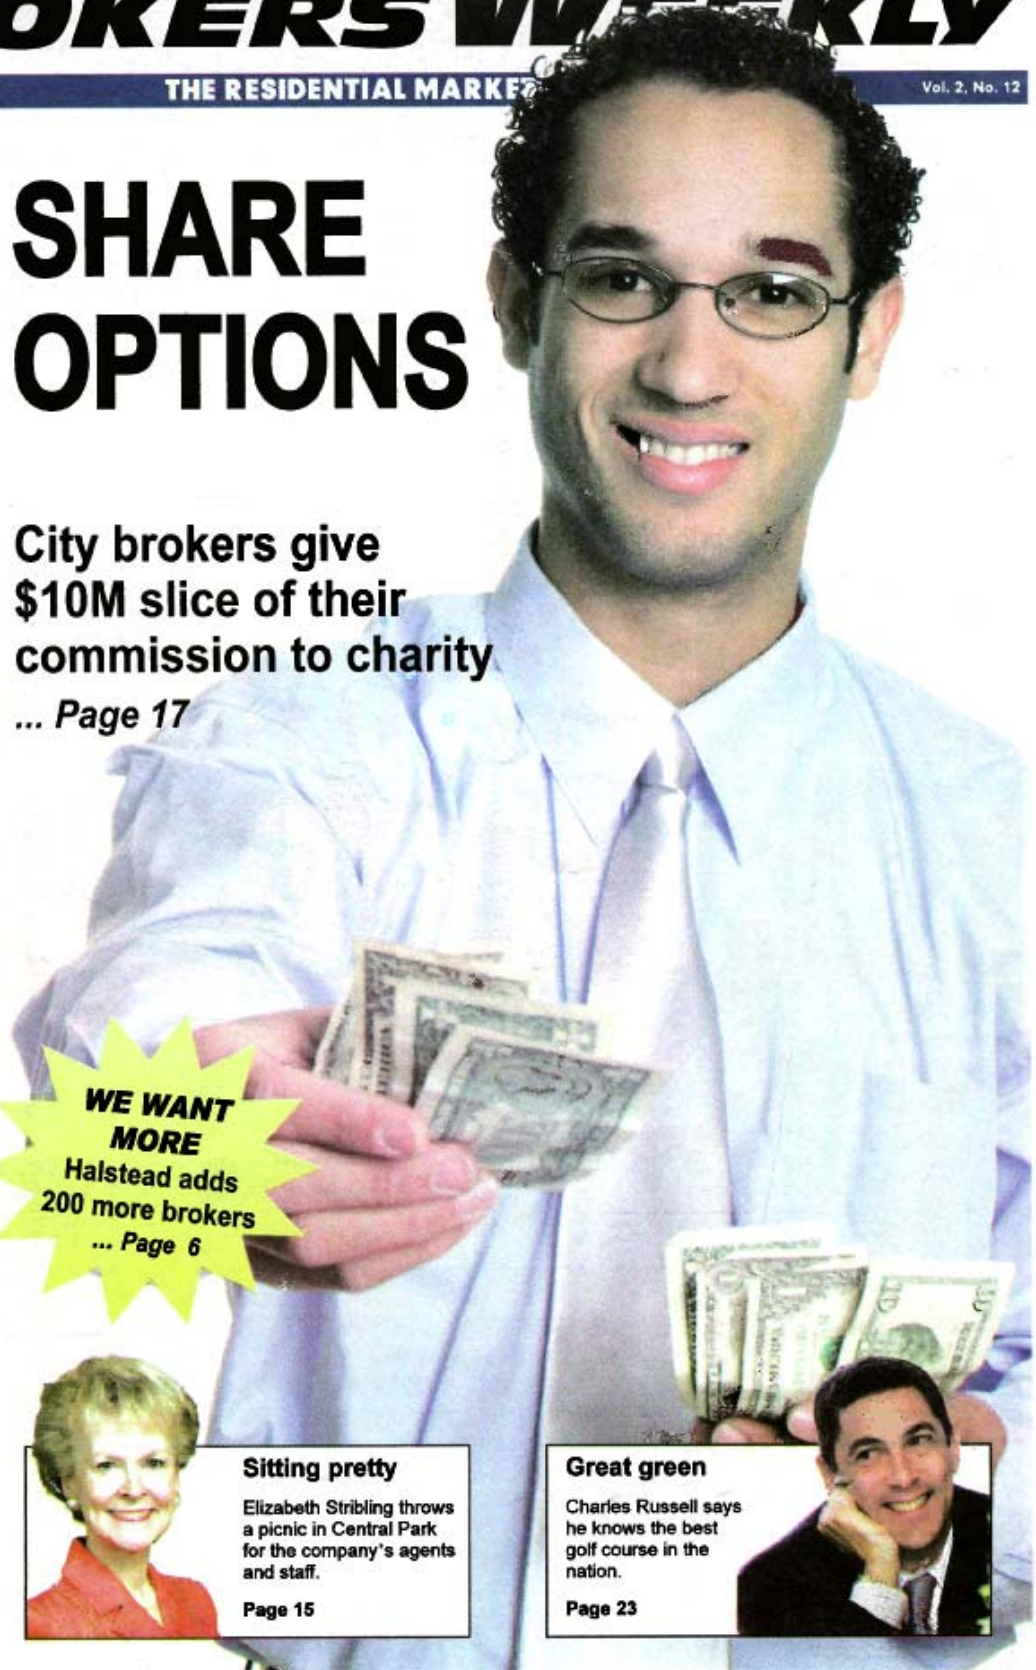

Elizabeth Stribling throws a picnic in Central Park for the company's agents and staff.

Page 15

Great green

Charles Russell says he knows the best golf course in the nation.

Page 23

GALLERY

Stribling & Associates and Stribling Marketing Associates held their annual picnic in Central Park recently. The picnic took place adjacent to the Pin Oak tree that was sponsored by Stribling & Associates through the Central Park Conservancy. Pictured l-r: Stribling managers, Kenneth Scheff, Rosita Sarnoff, Christopher Wilson, Elizabeth Stribling, Steven Rutter, Elizabeth Ann Kivlan and Kirk Henckels.